

Snow Policies and Procedures

2018

Tom Henry, Mayor

INTRODUCTION

The City of Fort Wayne has recognized the need to annually review the methods and materials necessary to meet the goal of providing for the safe and efficient removal of snow and control of ice on public streets. The following procedural manual outlines the responsibilities within the Division of Public Works as well as other partnering agencies required to accomplish this goal.

The City is responsible for over 950 miles of arterial and secondary snow routes. There are several factors that can have dramatic effects on the response time of City crews in salting and plowing streets and hauling snow, especially when these factors are combined. They include air temperature, pavement temperature, type of precipitation (freezing rain, sleet, or snow), wind speed and direction, time of day, and expected duration of the storm event.

Whenever there is a danger of icy or snowy conditions on City roadways, the Street Department will monitor conditions and respond accordingly. When snow or ice begins accumulating on the streets, plowing and/or salting operations will commence.

Fort Wayne is divided into 16 snow routes with each route assigned a minimum of two trucks. Streets in each route are prioritized as one (arterial streets) two (collectors and PTC bus routes), or three (residential). Priority one streets are the first streets to receive plowing and salting. Whenever the priority one streets are deemed safe for travel during or after a snowfall, the City's plow trucks begin operations on the priority two streets. After these streets are completed, trucks will move to residential streets if there is an accumulation of inches or more of snow. If during plowing operations on priority two or three streets it begins to snow again and priority one streets become slippery, trucks will be dispatched back to these streets as needed.

Although no snow event is exactly the same, as a rule of thumb it usually takes 10-12 hours AFTER the snow stops falling to plow and salt priority one and two streets. Residential streets generally take 48 hours to plow, assuming we can stay at it and do not have to move back to priority one or two streets.

Subject to the weather conditions at the time and once operations have begun, the City will attempt to accomplish the following objectives in an effort to meet the overall goal of providing for the safe and efficient removal of snow and control of ice on public streets:

Plowing Operations During a Snow Alert

1. Arterial snow routes completed in 12 hours.
2. Collector and residential streets completed within 48 hours (if a snow alert has been issued, and City crews plow all streets).

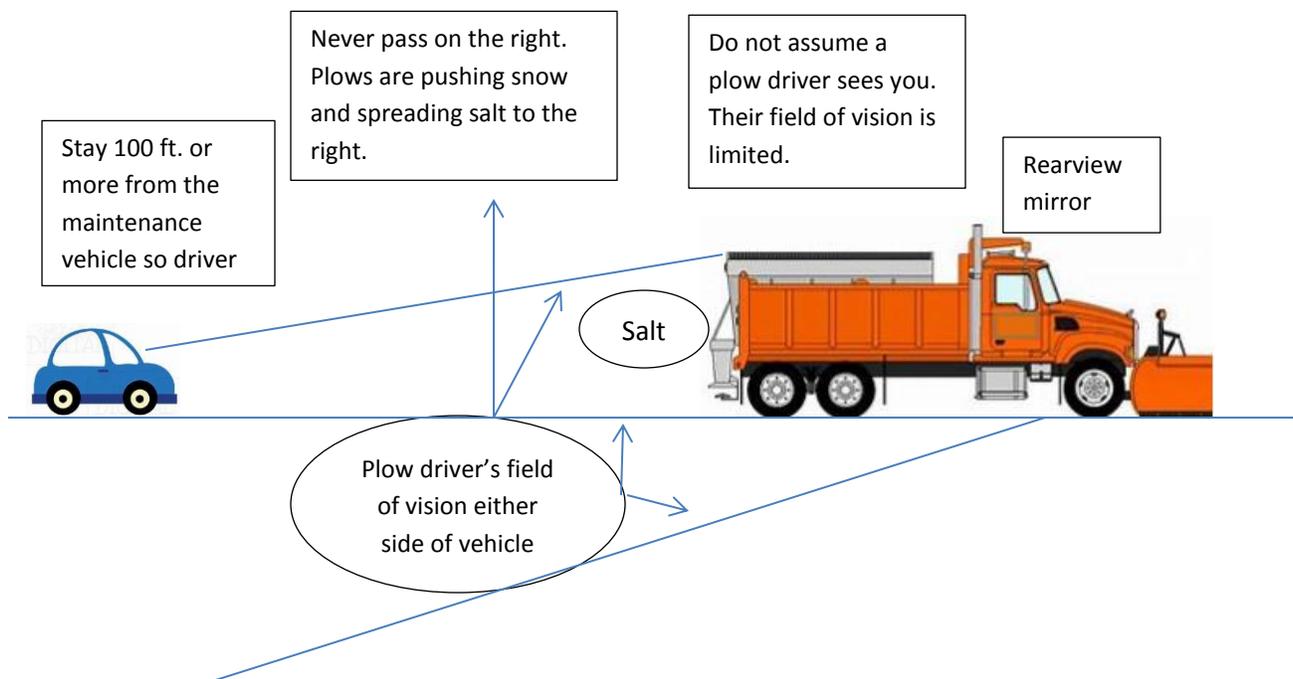

Salting Operations

1. Arterial Snow Routes completed in 12 hours.
2. Secondary Snow Routes subsequently completed in four hours.
3. Residential streets completed as conditions warrant.

This document will serve primarily as a guide for supervisors, equipment operators, and various management staff within the City of Fort Wayne who are involved in the snow removal process. However, it will also provide readers with an understanding of how the City manages snow removal.

SAFETY TIPS

- Trucks are plowing snow and spreading salt. Stay back from the vehicle 100 feet to avoid problems.
- Plow trucks often have to back up. There are blind spots in the mirrors. For your safety, do not pull up directly behind them. They may not be able to see you.
- When cleaning driveways or parking lots, do not put snow in the street. This can cause problems for other motorists.
- Plow trucks generally push snow to the passenger side of the truck (right side when looking at it from the rear). Never attempt to pass a truck on the right since there can be much more snow on that side of the vehicle.

SCHEDULES

Snow season work schedules will be established as follows:

Schedule	Shifts	Number of Employees
Normal Daily Schedule	Day Shift: 7:00 AM – 3:00 PM	80 Employees
	Night Shift: 11:00 PM – 7:00 AM	24 Employees
Snow Schedule	Day Shift: 7:00 AM – 7:00 PM	80 Employees
	Night Shift: 7:00 PM – 7:00 AM	24 Employees

Due to the nature of snow and ice control activities, management will change schedules as needed to complete salting or plowing activities. When this occurs, the most possible advance notice will be given.

TRAINING

Prior to the start of the snow season, the Street department Supervisors will conduct training activities for all personnel that will be involved in the snow control activities. The training will consist of classroom training and hands-on equipment training, including the operation of salters, snow plows, front-end loaders, and the snow-loading machine. A “dry run” will be conducted for inexperienced drivers, which will consist of driving the routes to familiarize the drivers with any obstructions they may encounter.

WEATHER MONITORING

Street department supervisors, with the use of the Data Transmission Network (DTN) and the National Weather Service daily forecast, will monitor weather conditions. In addition, consultation with local weather forecasters will be conducted to further enhance our weather information.

MATERIALS USED

The following products will be used during an event depending on pavement temperature, air temperature, and amount of precipitation.

1. Straight salt
2. A mixture of salt pre-wetted with liquid CaCl₂ - This mixture will be utilized on snow routes until temperatures or precipitation causes the material to become ineffective (15°F).
3. Brine - Liquid brine or a liquid brine mixture depending on the temperature. We are able to Pre Treat our local streets up to 3 days prior to an event. We are able to produce 5000 gallons per hour and store 41,000 gallons.

SALTING OPERATIONS

The priority system for salting operations is as follows:

1. Arterial Streets (including perimeter streets around public and private schools during weekdays)
2. Collector Streets
3. Areas where traction problems are causing hazardous driving conditions, such as hills, curves, etc.

Once operations have begun, salting will continue until the selected streets have traction restored. Depending on the weather conditions, arterial and collector streets may receive multiple applications, along with other hazardous intersections or street inclines.

Salt domes are located at the Street department main office, 1701 S. Lafayette, and the north transportation garage, 7606 Young Road.

PLOWING OPERATIONS

Plowing operations may begin when snow starts to accumulate. Vehicles will have plows or other equipment mounted in advance. If Emergency Snow Routes are to be cleared, the Street Department will notify the public through a news release to the media. Secondary Snow Routes may be plowed, depending on conditions.

When a Snow Alert is issued, the priority system for plowing operations is as follows:

1. Priority One – Arterial Streets
2. Priority Two – Collector Streets and streets around schools
3. Priority Three – Residential Streets

After the issuance of a Snow Alert, plowing on Snow Routes will be continuous until snow ceases to fall. Streets will be plowed curb-to-curb.

BRIDGES

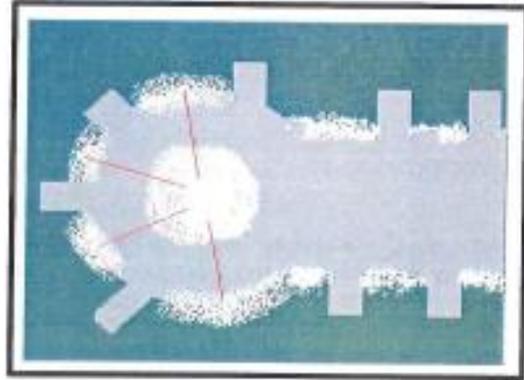

Bridges will be inspected each morning for frost or slippery conditions. Monitoring will be done by the early shift. If frost is present, salt will be spread to increase traction.

CUL-DE-

There are over 750 cul-de-sacs in Fort Wayne. A majority of these are publicly maintained, and therefore, need to be addressed in this manual. The City incurs proportionally more time and costs clearing snow from cul-de-sacs than on typical “uninterrupted” stretch of City streets.

In an effort to become more efficient crews will, when feasible, use the following standard in plowing snow in cul-de-sacs:

1. One full pass will be made around the perimeter of the cul-de-sac with a snowplow, pushing the snow to the center of the cul-de-sac, and thus, creating a pile.
2. As time allows, the snow will be plowed out of the center of the cul-de-sac and dispersed to the sides of the street.

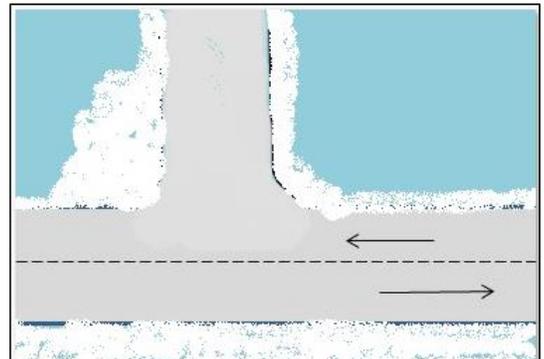

Some cul-de-sacs wither have a very short throat or may develop unusually heavy and uneven drifts; therefore, it may not always be possible for crews to employ this procedure. Additionally, if snow accumulations become too deep, the City may haul snow with the use of a front-end loader from selected cul-de-sacs.

RESIDENTIAL DRIVEWAYS

One of the most frequent and disliked results in removal of snow from public streets is snow being deposited in residential driveways during plowing operations. As plows travel along streets, the snow accumulated on the plow blade has no place to go but on the adjacent street boulevards and in driveways.

Snowplow operators make every attempt to minimize the amount of snow deposited in driveways, but the amount can still be significant. The more snow that has fallen, the greater the problem will be. One way residents can help is to pile snow they have shoveled from their driveways on the right side facing the street, in lieu of placing it on both sides at the end of the driveways. Doing this will help snowplow drivers avoid carrying piles from the other side back across driveways. Based on priorities and staffing levels, City personnel do not provide driveway cleaning.

MAIL DELIVERY

City snow operators make every effort to remove snow as close to the curb as practical and to provide access to mailboxes for postal carriers. However, it is not always possible to provide ideal conditions and not damage mailboxes with the size and type of equipment the City operates. Therefore, the final cleaning adjacent to mailboxes is the responsibility of each resident.

STORM PREPAREDNESS and EMPLOYEE STATUS

The success of the overall operation is based on the availability of appropriate staff, preceding and during snow removal activities. Between the months of October and April, Fort Wayne is subject to rapidly changing weather patterns. Because severe winter storms may occur during these months, management may alter the work schedules of employees as conditions dictate. Management will make every attempt to notify employees of the possibility of anticipated storms. With advance warning, it is the employee's responsibility to make arrangements to be available as needed for snow removal. When storms are imminent or forecasted, employees should exercise proper judgement off duty, so they will not jeopardize their availability during critical periods.

ACCIDENTS and PROPERTY DAMAGE

Snowplowing and ice control operations can result in property damage, particularly during blizzard conditions or during nighttime snow plowing. Incidents involving contact between City equipment and private property typically occurs within the public street right-of-way, which commonly extends beyond the adjoining sidewalk. The intent of the right-of-way is to provide for snow storage, utilities, sidewalks, and other City uses.

All accidents involving City vehicles (regardless of damage amount) must be promptly reported to an on-duty supervisor. The supervisor is to report the accident immediately to Risk Management with the City (Citizens Square, Ste 470). If an accident involves another vehicle or if significant private property damage has occurred, the Fort Wayne Police Department must also be notified in order to complete an accident investigation. The equipment operator must remain at the scene of the accident and provide any requested information or assistance until they are dismissed. It should also be noted that commercial vehicle drivers will be subject to post-accident drug and alcohol testing.

Homeowners are permitted to place some improvements, such as mailboxes, within the right-of-way. In the event of damage to private property during snow removal efforts, the property owner shall file a claim with the Risk Management department (Citizens Square, Ste 470). The damage will then be investigated to determine if any damage is the responsibility of the City. The City accepts responsibility for mailboxes, which are allowed to be placed in the road right-of-way, if the damage is caused by being struck by a plow blade or other piece of equipment. Mailboxes should be constructed solidly enough to withstand the force of snow rolling off a plow.

Damage resulting from snow is the responsibility of the resident. The City will repair or replace mailboxes in those instances where the City is responsible for the damage. Damage to fences, trees, or other structures will be repaired or replaced by the City if they are on private property. Lawns that are physically damaged by City plows or motor graders will be repaired by top dressing and seeding.

Private property (other than motor vehicle) which may have been damaged as a result of operations must be reported as soon as possible. Damage to items such as mailboxes, sod, sprinkler heads, trees etc., should be called in to the appropriate radio number or a supervisor. Include any necessary information such as the street address, description of area, item, and damage. If an equipment operator is approached by a private property owner regarding damage to private property, the employee shall immediately notify the on-duty supervisor.

SALT BARRELS

Various homeowners' associations have chosen to place salt barrels in their neighborhoods for use on city street intersections, cross walks, and other public right-of-ways that may become hazardous during slippery conditions. While it is still the responsibility of the neighborhood to supply the salt barrels and stands, the Street Department will fill the barrels with salt as needed. Salt barrels are not placed with the intention of being a free supply of salt for people to take home for private use.

To prevent confusion, the City requires that requests for filling of salt barrels be submitted by the neighborhood association president or a representative. Requests will need to be approved by the Street Department. Neighborhood associations should submit a written request, signed by the association representatives, to the Street Department before barrels are placed. When these representatives call our office, we will mail or fax the form necessary to apply for salt barrel service. The form can also be found online on the City website.

www.cityoffortwayne.org/publicworks/street-department/salt-barrels.html. The completed request can be mailed or faxed to the Street department, which will then make an onsite inspection to determine if placement is justified. Once inspection is completed, representatives will be contacted as to the status of their requests.
